

Announcing, not one but two guest rabbis for Kedem High Holydays 5782!

Rabbi Gabbi Sar-Shalom

Rabbi Gabbi Sar-Shalom is a Jewish Universalist Rabbi. She works as the Spiritual Care Coordinator at Caulfield Hospital and the Lead Pastoral Carer at Calvary Bethlehem. She teaches the Bnei Mitzvah program for Kehilat Nitzan and oversees children's education and programming there.

She has a Graduate Certificate in Supervision of Pastoral Care from the University of Divinity and a passion for social justice, interfaith, the Divine Feminine, Kabbalah, hiking and travel.

Gabbi has a Bachelor's Degree in Multimedia and has lived in the UK, US and Israel.

Rabbi Fred Morgan

Rabbi Fred Morgan received rabbinic ordination from the Leo Baeck College in London. He served North West Surrey Synagogue for several years before becoming Senior Rabbi at Temple Beth Israel in Melbourne in 1997. He retired from TBI in 2013 and was appointed Professorial Fellow at the Australian Catholic University in Jewish-Christian relations. He also served the UPJ as Movement Rabbi and conceived the innovative Grass Roots Dialogue Project for the Council of Christians and Jews. He was made a Member in the Order of Australia in 2014. Rabbi Morgan is married to Sue, and they have three children and three grandchildren.
